THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

*Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;*

*Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,*

*And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.*

*I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference,*

To carry with us

On separate roads . . .

NORTH HAVEN HIGH SCHOOL

North Haven, Connecticut

DEDICATION

MISS JANE LEE

We are students . . . and we are more than students. Our world has books . . . and much more than books. And so our smaller world—our school—is more than classes. It is sports, dances, activities; it is taking responsibility, and learning from all.

The best of our teachers are leaders and helpers both in and out of class. They enable us to change the words of the text from facts into knowledge. They give of their energy and talent to make the high school a world. Without them, our school would be a place for books, and no more.

Miss Jane Lee epitomizes the interested, active teacher for whom we are all grateful. In an effort to thank her for all those contributions which have made her outstanding among the best, we dedicate the 1967 Sachem to Miss Jane Lee.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The graduating class of 1967 can be proud of its fine yearbook. Within its covers the yearbook staff has captured and preserved those pictures of people and events which will always be fond reminders of your stay at the North Haven High School.

This yearbook will always be a ready record for each class member of his experiences at high school; it will help him recall the opportunities for growth which were provided as he or she matured into young adulthood. The three years in the North Haven High School permitted each graduating senior to cultivate enjoyable associations as well as to receive the results of a broad program of studies which will ever be of service as future plans unfold.

We all hope for each of you graduates that the skills you have acquired, the attitudes and understandings you have developed will always be of service.

May this yearbook and record preserved therein ever be a source of pleasant memories of one of the finest periods in your life. The best of good fortune to each of you.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

TO THE CLASS OF 1967

As each class completes its formal affiliation with the school, it is natural to look back and attempt to assess its accomplishments. During the three year period you have been here, a noticeable change has taken place in the development of student self-responsibility and in constructive attitudes. A renewal of interest in student government, the establishment of teacher-faculty committees to deal with important school issues, student initiative in developing new course offerings, questioning the use and effectiveness of grades are all examples of the increased awareness and involvement which has emerged during your years in this school.

We, as a school, have attempted to provide you with the skills and attitudes needed for full personal development and effective involvement in society. We have also attempted to develop in you an understanding of yourself and your role in society. Your school record provides evidence that you are ready to assume greater responsibility and that you will be able to contribute constructively to society.

We wish you success in your future endeavors.

A.F.S. sisters Harriet Smith and Sidsel Ask talk with Dee Dee Caplan, A.F.S. President and delegate to England in the summer of 1966.

SIDSEL

A bright-warm greeting—quick-silver smile—A flash of wit—kindness and giving—Wide blue eyes—"Oh sure!" "Chee—are you kidding?" Flawless English—Nordic legends and dignity—her first American Christmas: "And you think this is snow?" "What fun!" A senior like any—with homework and moans and groans . . . "North Haven is more informal and independent than my high school." Energetic, exciting—just plain fun. Multi-talented—knits like a dream, sings and likes folk—a Danbury singer.

Sidsel Ask from Haugesund, Norway is impossible to capture on paper. Even harder to capture is what Sidsel has come to mean to us, to her host family, the Smiths, to everyone who knows her. She'll be going back to Norway too soon, to finish high school, to go on to college, to teach—We'll miss her . . .

JUNIOR PROM 1966

WINCHESTER PROJECT

During the latter half of the 1966 school year, a novel and exciting extracurricular activity was taking shape. Initiated and organized by history department chairman Raymond Brown in collaboration with Mr. Robert Pleasure, Assistant Principal of Winchester School in New Haven, the Winchester Project has this year been realized.

Each Friday afternoon participating North Haven students act as tutors for forty fourth, fifth, and sixth graders from Winchester Elementary School. The children are brought to the high school by bus to be tutored for an hour and a half in mathematics, reading, spelling, or social studies. A one-to-one ratio between high school and elementary students allows for as much personal attention as possible.

It is hoped that the project gives the Winchester students extra help not otherwise readily available in order that their progress in school may proceed as rapidly as possible.

This year the program has been run as much as possible by student chairmen Marilyn Brewster, Karl Gustafson, and Kim Lacy.

Student chairmen: Karl Gustafson, Marilyn Brewster, Kim Lacy.

MODEL CONGRESS

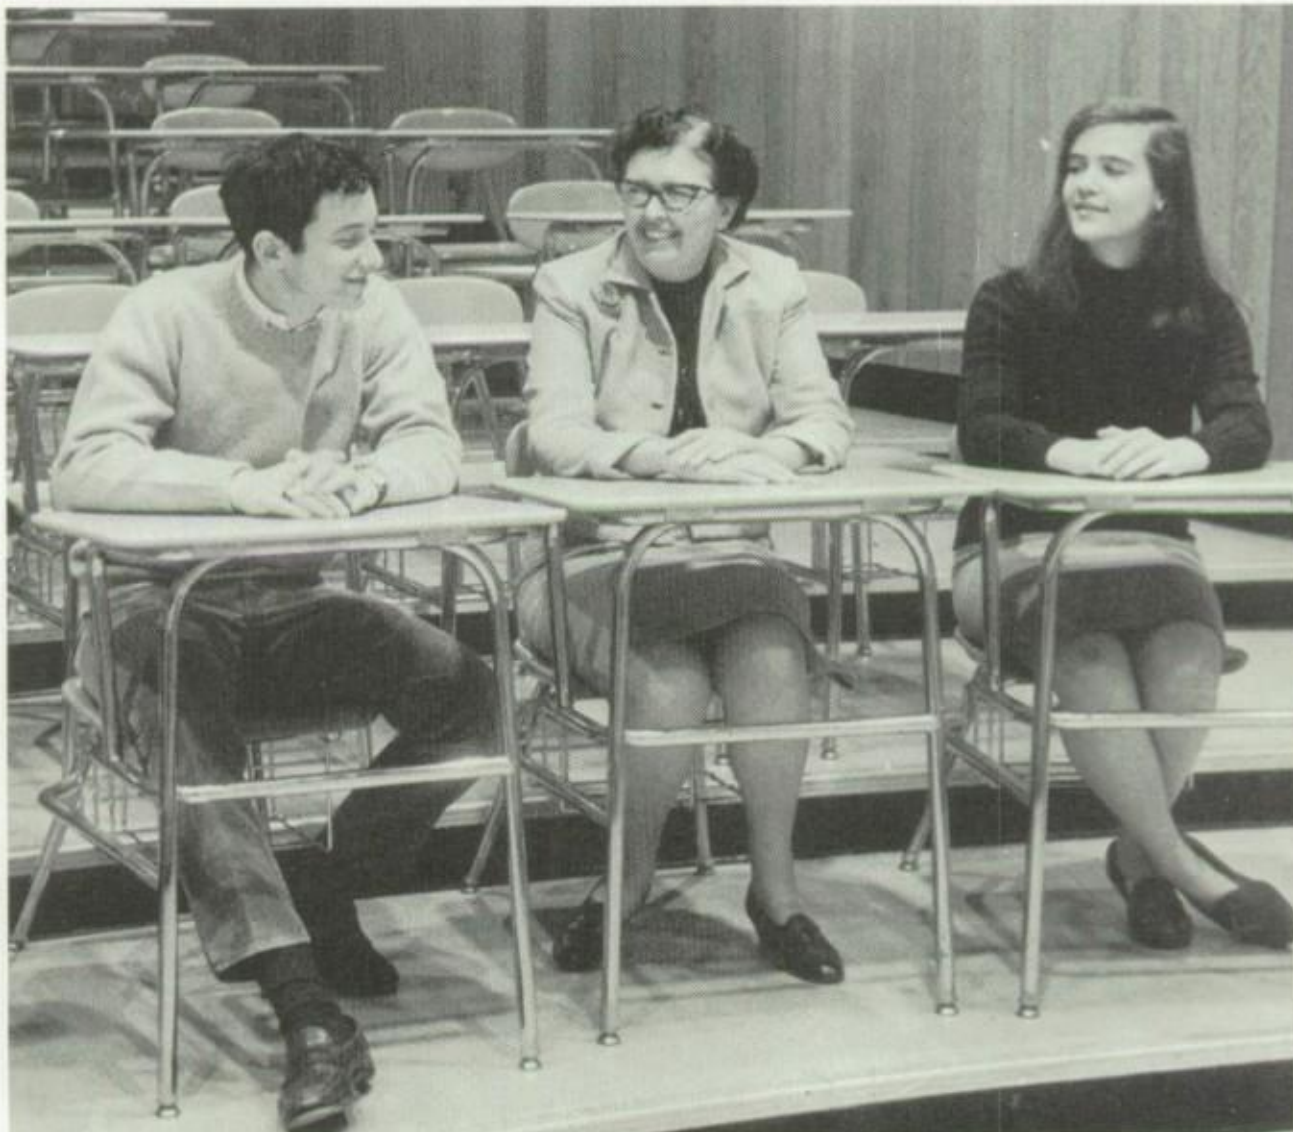

The first model congress in Connecticut was held at North Haven High School April 21-22, 1967. A common interest in the affairs of this nation brought over two hundred delegates to NHHS from participating schools within the state. Here the delegates experienced first-hand the workings of the legislative branch of government in Washington, D.C. Debating the issues that face the nation on the domestic and foreign scenes, the students were called upon to voice their opinions and propose their own solutions.

Delegates were assigned to committees according to their particular fields of interest. After deciding within their committees which bills were most likely to pass approval, the senators and congressmen retired to their floor meetings to discuss the pending legislation. Each bill's author rose to explain to his fellow delegates the need for his proposed law. Logrolling and other political devices were used to gain support for the various bills. In order not to inhibit debate, an adopted form of Robert's Rules was followed.

Senator Abraham Ribicoff addressed a joint meeting of the assembly on Saturday morning, devoting a majority of his speech to the mechanics of government and the job of the elective official.

The Model Congress was an example of youth educating itself through experience. If a heightened awareness of the intricacy of governing a people is an achievement worthy of months of preparation, then NHHS's Model Congress was a project both worthwhile and successful.

CLASS WILL

*"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long, thoughts" . . . ?*

- I, Peggy Addario, leave my Math ability to any future student with Mr. C.
- I, Anthony Paul Aiardo, leave Joe Pelliccio my ability to play all 8 instruments.
- I, Marian Anderson, leave my locker to my youngest sister, Sandra.
- I, Carmine Angeloni, leave to my tweed friend Mike, my tremendous ability to play drums, which he has always admired.
- I, Bobby Annunziata, will all of North Haven High to my sister Maryann and hope she has fun with it.
- I, Diane Appel, leave the nickname of Apple to those in my family who have the personal integrity, physical stamina and mental alertness to live up to it.
- I, Sidsel Ask, will all the left-over A.F.S. Christmas Cards to the new exchange student.
- I, Richard Astorino, leave peace and quiet to my homeroom teacher, Mr. Buckley.
- I, Phil Bacon, leave my buttons to anyone who wants them.
- I, Diana Barone, gladly leave Mrs. Palmieri's 5 minute timings to any underclassman crazy enough.
- I, Bill Barry, leave my notebook full of football plays to Mr. Vanacore.
- I, Gail Bennett, will leave; so take this school for what it is worth.
- I, Chick Berdinka, leave those steaming showers to any Junior girl who desires instant straight hair.
- I, Audrey Betta, leave following one certain boy.
- I, Rhonda Bernardo, leave my mini skirts to Mrs. Urbanski and Nancy Stevenson.
- I, Richard Betz, leave several corpses to Mr. Mascagna, leave everything written on my second-hand typewriter to Miss Lee, leave fond memories of Berlin to Herr Shia, and leave a vacuum to be filled by any Junior who wants to be driven rapidly into absolute insanity.
- I, Quincy Billingsley III, leave one ripped and smelly gym shirt, and one pair of burned out socks.
- I, Marge Bigliere, leave my over-abundant basketball uniform to Janet Olney, in hopes that someday she may fill it.
- I, Mary Birney, will Mr. Keough's cold classroom to anyone who can stand it.
- I, Marcia Bishop, leave Mr. Winsco at the mercy of some other frustrating troublemaker, that he runs into every time he turns around.
- I, Cindy Blakeslee, leave all my low grades to my sister Jane, who doesn't know what one looks like.
- I, Lynda Bodwell, leave all the Problems of Democracy to my sister, Sandy.
- I, Gail Bonaldo, leave North Haven High scared to enter the cold, cruel world.
- I, Mary Ellen Breuler, leave Cindy Schannon the ability to withstand N.H.H.S. for two long years.
- I, Karma Brown, leave my naturally frizzy hair to Linda Blace in hopes that she can straighten it out.
- I, Kathy Brown, leave my fantastic athletic ability and my overwhelming guitar skills to Dottie Hawkins, and one dented fender in the driver-ed. car to Mr. Cavaliere.
- I, Regina Burban, will Bobby Tyrrell and Frank Burr back their lockers.
- I, Wendy Burgess, leave without my sister Jane. Good luck, kid!
- I, Howard Caley, give my great grades in P.O.D. to any Junior that needs them.
- I, Andrew Camero, leave to my friends and others the fragrant locker rooms, the gourmet food and the modular schedule.
- I, Bruce Campbell, leave all yearbook debts to class of '68 editors.
- I, Richard Carleton, leave my seat in the lunchroom to anyone who wants to be persecuted.
- I, Ruth Cannon, will Mr. DeMayo to anyone who is lucky enough to get him.
- I, Eddie Cappetta, leave one broken hack-saw blade and some of my hair to Mr. Antonelli.
- I, Valerie Carrano, will my hot temper to Mrs. G., with whom I have had many loud discussions, and to anyone who enjoys fighting with people.
- I, Monique Champagne, leave my smile to those who will smile back in return.
- I, Linda Chapman, leave Maria Serfillippi a one year's supply of oranges, apples, pears, and Fritos to be eaten only between 7:45 A.M. and 8:05 A.M.
- I, Robert Chelstowski, leave my 'slack' to the sophomores and juniors who will need it.
- I, Judy Clare, leave all the future Bookkeeping II classes to Miss Calo.
- I, Barbara Conway, leave the nickname of Twitty to anyone with the misfortune of having the last name of Conway.
- I, Richard Corriveau, will my hair to Mr. D'Angelo, the woodshop teacher.
- I, Kathleen Cranton, leave my Torch picture to any Junior who has the hiccups.
- I, Robert Cretella, leave all the tudes to any one will accept them.
- I, Gene D'Agostino, leave my 12 Mike Hammer Thrillers to the N.H.H.S. English Department.
- I, Christine Davis, leave my pink Cadillac to anyone who dares drive it.
- I, Sue Davis, will my deepest sympathy to any student who innocently gets that "Gruesome Three-some."
- I, Wayne Davis, leave Steve Lofberg my throwing arm for a more pleasant baseball season next year.
- I, Michael J. Davitt, leave all the misery, homework and pains of N.H.H.S. to Barbara DeFrancesco and her friends.
- I, George Dayton, leave chaos to the IBM machine, boredom to my one 'learned' teacher, and my gym suit to the smelly locker room.
- I, Judy Deak, leave nothing to nobody.
- I, George Delehant, leave to Frank Iaccarino, Kevin Philips, and Harry Clarke our winning record and all the trouble the grodies cause.

- I, Sue DellaValle, leave patience to any student who has Mr. Keough in their senior year.
year.
- I, Debbie Dell'Oro, leave Celeste DeFilio my walk—all in one lump.
- I, Diane DeLucia, leave N.H.H.S. for some place much better.
- I, Mary Ann DeNuzzo, leave my ability in chemistry to Mike Marone, with the hope that he'll never shake any more solutions.
- I, Renee DeSalvatore, leave Diane's chocolate chip cookies in Mr. Dean's fourth period Math class to anyone who can get away with eating them.
- I, Barbara Diamante, leave my best wishes to the future Speech and Drama class. They will need it!
- I, Lenny Dombroski, leave all my blood and grease to Mr. Gray at the shop.
- I, Maureen Donnelly, will leave anything to do with N.H.H.S. to my sister, Denise.
- I, Margaret L. Dudley, leave my locker to anyone who can make their bus on time.
- I, Chris Dunn, bequeath my stock in the Recklinghausen Zeppelin Repair Factory.
- I, Jamie Dunn, leave my brilliant SAT scores to anyone who doesn't plan on going to college.
- I, Cheryl Dunn, leave far more intelligent than when I arrived.
- I, Evelyn Dwyer, leave all the barrels in N.H.H.S. to anybody who wants to be put in them.
- I, Henry Ekberg, leave all my potential to Debby Coffey in the hope that she will use it to the best of her ability.
- I, Angela Esposito, leave all my scraps of material, needles and pins to Mrs. Hilton.
- I, Yvonne Esposito, leave the stolen pumpkins and road blocks to my friend.
- I, Ernie Falcone, leave $2.00 to Richard Scott for a hair cut.
- I, Fran Farmer, leave to Cheryl Smith (the only one left) the tattered and torn remains of the Sacred Six Banner: Long may she wave!
- I, Joy Fassett, leave my pink 'Pub' blanket, and my double period Pub Room naps to any junior lucky enough to find the former and desperate enough to need the latter.
- I, Kathy Feuhrer, leave Mr. Keough's fourth period P.O.D. class to anyone lucky enough to get it.
- I, Carol Flood, leave my sketch pad to any dedicated art student.
- I, Carole Fonda, leave my accented 'Thank You' to any Junior brave enough to endure the teasing.
- I, John Forte, leave North Haven High School to my sister, Joan.
- I, Sue Fortino, leave to Barb DiNuzzo my crutches in hopes that she'll never have to use them and be labeled as "the injured cheerleader"!
- I, Ben Fowler, leave to North Haven High School a pillow for every desk so that a deserving student, when the urge arises, may sleep in comfort.
- I, Steve Fowler, leave my 'Hot-Seat' in Mr. Samberg's Speech and Drama class, to any interested student. Along with this, I leave my unobstructed view of him.
- I, Gail Friedlander, leave to Don Geissler all the homework.
- I, Raymond Frohlich, leave to Bob Chace all my wit and speaking talent for the next football season. It might come in handy for a bunch like that.
- I, Ben Fronte, leave my title of Captain Kangaroo to Buddy Mastroianni, Mike Cozzolino, and Walt Reynolds in hopes of having them hold it with pride.
- I, Bernard Furnival, leave my inside-out California shirt to Danny Bornstein, who said it looked like wallpaper.
- I, Linda Gamsby, leave to Mr. Dodds my chills and goose bumps, due to his love of fresh air.
- I, Donna Gates, will one reserved parking space o Joe Tiskus, an empty gas can to Robin LeQuire, a flat tire to Celeste DeFilio, and numerous late-slips to Mr. Robbins.
- I, Donna Geissler, leave a spool of thread to Lillie Bellonio.
- I, Frank Gersz, leave Mr. Parsons to all those who think they like singing.
- I, Patti Golino, will leave all the newspapers I have read to Mr. DeMayo.
- I, Judy Gordon, leave the cafeteria's runny applesauce to all who like baby food.
- I, Louis Gherlone, leave my craftsmanship to Mr. Antonelli so he can work in metal shop.
- I, Nancy Guandalini, leave my seat on the big yellow omnibus to Patti Berniere and Judy Guandalini to treasure until they graduate.
- I, Louis Guyott, leave nothing to everyone.
- I, Natalie Hacku, leave Sally Collins Pete and Repete to keep her company while I'm gone.
- I, Ruth Hansen, leave my fascination with originality and inventiveness that Sharon Eielson left to me, to Wendy Cole.
- I, Barbara Harrison, leave Glenn Strickland here.
- I, Tacy Haseltine, leave Norma Eckert my 'fake split' and my undersized bloomers with hopes that she has better luck with them than I did!
- I, Ann Herrmann, leave my homeroom, 112, to the unfortunate souls next year.
- I, Gordon Hill, leave Zeno and his paradoxes to Mr. Dudley's future Geometry classes.
- I, Karen Hull, hereby will my Economics class to anybody who can take it.
- I, John Iacobelli, leave my extraordinary abilities in mathematics to anyone who wants to fail.
- I, Susan Judd, leave my tardiness to Mr. Nigro's fifth period class to anyone who can survive his threats.
- I, Charles Kelly, leave my V.W. keys to anyone who is smart enough to buy one.
- I, Rosemary Kerestury, leave all the wonderful teachers that I have had through the years to those who will appreciate them.
- I, Nadine Klimaszewski, leave my last name to the biology class to dissect the way they want.
- I, Gary Kline, leave my dirty gym suit to Mr. Vanacore.
- I, Joanne Kolodej, leave my will to my brother Joseph, and all the happiness in his endeavors in his high school years.
- I, Dolores Kolterman, leave to anyone my locker, that will not and has not locked all year.
- I, Richard Kubeck, leave Mr. Dean another class like ours.
will.
- I, Paula Kusmit, leave Bookkeeping II with Mr. Nigro to anyone that can do it.
- I, Judy Lance leave, which should make Mr. Winsco very happy.
- I, Janie Lee, leave to Harriet the pleasure of sitting on L.H.'s side at all L.H.H.S. and N.H.H.S. games.

- I, Barry LeQuire, leave all my playboy books in the back of room 212.
- I, Janice Los, leave Typewriter number 23 to anyone who wants it.

- I, Virginia Mansfield, leave with mixed emotions.
- I, Laura Mantovani, leave all the stenography pads to Mrs. Palmieri.
- I, Michele Marchini, leave my brother, Mike, to any senior girl who can handle him.
- I, Stephanie Marmanillo, leave all my dreams to anyone who can afford them.
- I, Valerie Martine, leave my chewed out bubble gum to anyone who is rich enough to pay Mr. Nigro 5 cents each time he or she is caught.
- I, Linda Massari, leave to Cookie M. all the nylons I ruined on the chairs in the cafeteria.
- I, Richard Massini, leave my ability to get to Mr. Perrone's homeroom on time to his next group of sophomores.
- I, David Melilli, leave the school and my fetal pig to my sister, Liz and her little friends.
- I, Bob Mermin, amidst vigorous protest, leave without too much fuss this humble establishment.
- I, Barry Midwood, leave Wendy Cole with sadness.
- I, Pat Millest, leave my talking in class to Donna Dower who can do a good job at it.
- I, Walt Mills, leave my drawings to Eng. Dr. 2, period 4.
- I, Kathy Morehouse, leave my extraordinary knowledge in chemistry to anyone who wants it.
- I, James 'Mope' Moreland, will my Colt 45's to Bob Symington, and my draft card to Sheila, Marge, Sharon and crew.
- I, Kathy Morse, leave all my A.F.S. deposit slips to the lucky bookstore.
- I, Robert Mulvey, leave all the wasted time I took to get to physics, so Mr. Kelman can try to find out what we did.
- I, Maureen Munson, leave Mr. DeMayo my seat in his homeroom.
- I, Edward Murphy, leave Craig Wood all the rats in North Haven High, in hopes that he learns to dissect.
- I, Frank Muzio, leave all the North Haven High halls one way or another to any poor soul who wants it.
- I, Roberta Naples, leave my seat in Mr. C.'s room to whoever dares to sit in it.
- I, Laura Nargi, leave all my used lunch bags to a deserving lunchmate, Malvina Golden.
- I, Nancy Naumann, leave Mrs. Cestaro all of next year's seniors who need magazines for a certain research paper, and all my over-due library book slips to anyone who likes the color green.
- I, Sharon Niederschmidt, leave Mr. DeMayo's first period P.O.D. class to anyone who wants to be psychoanalyzed.
- I, Carl Noonan, leave Joe Pelliccio the right to say anything he wants to in Spanish.
- I, Scott Pederstuen, leave N.H.H.S. at the mercy of Mr. Papa and the computer.
- I, Ed Pepe, leave the Baseball Team and Mr. DeMayo who showed me the true meaning of the game.
- I, Vincent Pletnick, leave my vast understanding of Bio. II along with my superb notebook to Mr. Mascagna.
- I, Patricia Poll, leave my Class Spirit at N.H.H.S. to the class of '68'.
- I, Robert Poll, hereby will give gladly all English Books to the Seniors of '68'.
- I, Lee Porto, leave my 1967 pale yellow Austin Healy convertible to my imagination.
- I, Linda Potter, leave my parking space in the Faculty Parking Area to anyone who has enough nerve to use it.
- I, Valerie Poulton, leave all the jagged chairs in the cafeteria to any junior girl who likes runs in her stockings.
- I, Wayne Prunier, leave everything to N.H.H.S. except Dianne Talnose.
- I, Neil Raskin, will Mr. Vanacore and Mr. DeMayo to anyone who can stand their complaining about football players with long hair because they like theirs short.
- I, Vin Reilly, will one pair of decrepit track shoes, two rundown knees and one ticket on the scenic Mill Road bus tour to any other mentally deranged cross-country runner.
- I, Mike Rennicke, leave any Castle Soda left floating in the drains of North Haven High School.
- I, Susan Richards, leave Mr. DeMayo, his Freudian Theories, and Fresh Air to all of his future students.
- I, Charlie Ritch, will my clean locker and all of my excellent chemistry lab notes to Norma Eckert.
- I, Bob Rohloff, will or will not leave N.H.H.S., that is the question.
- I, Paul Rosano, will my quiet ways during class to Mr. Kelman.
- I, John P. Rosenkrantz, leave to any student unfortunate enough to receive it, a set of unfortunate scholarly promoters that I have received through the years.
- I, Judy Ross, leave all my bad notes on the French Horn to Mr. Winsco, who has had the patience to endure them, with the hope that he will find a French Horn player to correct them.
- I, Diane Rousseau, leave Peter Rabbit to himself.
- I, Ernest J. Sargent, leave Linda Trinidad with two more years of North Haven High School.
- I, Helen Scrivener, leave to Paula Falcigno all my fantastic coordination; and to Robin LeQuire and Debbie Mongillo the thanks for a year of wonderful memories of a great friendship.
- I, Marilyn Senecal, leave my Economics class with Mr. Perrone to anyone who likes dogs.
- I, Barbara Shelton, leave to Cathy Caplan, my shiny new braces, all my heavy books and creativity, curiosity and happiness in the coming years.
- I, Sue Sheppard, will my future to Nick and my Captain's whistle to anyone who likes to disturb East Rock parkers.
- I, George Shia, leave a broken Hoffman apparatus and 100 used electrodes to the Science Department, and to R. Betz, the mansion at Eagle's Nest.
- I, Thomas Silengo, leave my black gum to any Baseball player tough enough to chew it.
- I, Sally Silverstein, leave to Paula Falcigno and Nick Dirks my sympathy—and also my envy.
- I, Heidi Simon, will all my unexcused, unsigned readmission slips to the wastebasket in the office; and the unimaginative comment in my locker to the person who wrote it.
- I, Miriam Sinow, leave half an ax-handle across the rump to Martha.
- I, Harriett Smith, leave to Paula Gray, my 'are you bored' article in locker 804 when she becomes bored.

I, Janice Sokolowski, leave my sometimes uncoordinated short cheers to Carol Soboleski in hopes that she can be more awake at games than I.

I, Mary Lou Stapledon, leave all the running to Mrs. Urbanski.

I, Heidi Stephens, leave Mrs. Palmieri's tape recorder to any junior brave enough to take Steno II.

I, Michael Stopkoski, leave to Mr. Nigro all my vast knowledge in bookkeeping that I so wholeheartedly learned during the school year.

I, Lou Tagliatela, leave all my potential and skill as a goof-off in physics class.

I, Dianne Talnose, leave all my abilities in bookkeeping to Maryellen Prunier.

I, Charlotte Timberman, leave my school spirit to Gerri Joy who needs it.

I, Rory Thompson, leave to any little person who has a kind heart, big ideas, and a giant-economy size supply of peanuts, the care and companionship of my elephant.

I, Sally Valentine, leave this school to anyone who wants it.

I, Marcia VanDoren, leave my 6th period English class to any girl brave enough to stay.

I, Linda Vogt, leave Rob Grant, the top shelf of his locker.

I, Patty Walker, leave North Haven High School to the mercy of my brothers 3 and sisters 3.

I, Alice Wegener, leave a bright, shiny smile to greet Mr. DeMayo every morning.

I, Judi Whaples, leave my table at lunch to Cathy, Denise, Loretta, and Carol.

I, Paul Williams, leave all my life, love, and pursuit of happiness to Janet.

I, Judy Wu, leave my extraordinary performance and ability in my Math IV class to any outstanding and daring student.

I, Wayne Yacek, leave my best wishes to the future senior classes of North Haven High School.

We, Mary Adinolfi and Barbara Schwartz, leave our Math IV initiatives to Mr. 'C'.

We, Judy Clare and Linda Massari, leave our two seats in the back of Mr. Keough's homeroom to any Juniors lucky enough to get him.

We, Rosemary Kerestury, Mary McMahon, Virginia Mansfield and Mary Birney, leave our library table to whoever gets there first.

We, Holly Lovig, Patti Mack, Jamie Dunn, and Rosemary Cipollini, will the keys of N.H.H.S. to any Zookeeper who thinks he can withstand it.

We, Barbara Minore and Barbara Giannotti, leave our broken megaphones and aching muscles to any junior cheerleader trying out for her senior year to be rejected.

We, Lee Porto, Mary Ellen Breuler, and Barbara Shelton, leave our gym suits to any junior that wants them.

We, Nancy Gandolfi, Dolores Ruggiero and Helen Breideabach, leave three empty seats in Mr. Iacobellis' Business Class to any underclassman who dares to enter the room.

We, Barbara Ruotolo and JoAnn Muzio, leave our sore fingers and blood-shot eyes to any Junior girls who type for next year's Sachem.

We, Sue Sheppard, Barb Dunn and Martha Shove, will dateless weekends, letterwriting and phone bills to any Junior girl whose boyfriend is in the Service.

We, Sue Sheppard and Sandy Lanzetti, bequeath to Mary DeVita the "second door on the right"

We, Tom and Ed, will one burnt mail truck, two medals of honor, a garden on wheels and all the jokes we can think of to Mr. Dudley.

We, the loud mouths of homeroom 311, leave the back row to any of the underclassmen who can uphold its reputation.

We, Judy and Judy, leave all the secret passageways out of the cafeteria to anyone who can find them.

We, Tom Silengo, Buck Kelsey, and Ernie Falcone, leave to Mr. Keough a baby bottle and blanket, just in case.

I, Dominic Paturzo, leave the lunchroom of North Haven High with great "pain".

I, Maria Adinolfi, leave all the rest of the matrons in N.H.H.S. to Mr. Simens.

You've always known he talks about yellow woods, snow, birch trees. The nature bit. What else would you expect from a New Hampshire devotee? You've known he talks about people—the beautiful, work-worn people of his land: the woodchopper, the hired man, the once-swinging of birches.

But do you know why his poetry, his nature, belong in the high school yearbook of a commercially and industrially expanding North Haven? Why Frost? How can the words of a nature poet bind the 1967 Sachem?

Senior, do you know that he talks about you—where you've been, where you are, where you're going? Do you realize that, with the receipt of a diploma on June 21, 1967, a phase of your life is over? Where are you going? Have you decided? Do you even know the choices?
